1. About the University

1.1 History
The university takes its founding date of 1838 from the year the Medical College of Virginia was created as the medical department of Hampden-Sydney College. MCV became independent in 1854 and state-affiliated in 1860.

VCU’s Monroe Park Campus began in 1917 as the Richmond School of Social Work and Public Health. In 1925, it became the Richmond division of the College of William and Mary; and in 1939, its name was changed to Richmond Professional Institute. It separated from William and Mary in 1962 to become an independent state institution.

In 1968, Gov. Mills E. Godwin Jr. signed VCU into existence, based on recommendations set forth in a 1967 report developed by a legislative commission led by Edward A. Wayne Sr., president of the Richmond Federal Reserve Bank. Wayne was named vice-rector of the first Board of Visitors of VCU, and the university’s Wayne Medal honors individuals who have made outstanding contributions or provided exemplary service to VCU. The full text of the Wayne Commission Report, explaining the development of Virginia Commonwealth University and the rationale for bringing together the Medical College of Virginia and Richmond Professional Institute, is available through VCU Libraries’ Digital Collections website.

MCV and RPI merged to become VCU in 1968 and it is now the most comprehensive urban university in the state.

Core values
1. Accountability
2. Achievement
3. Collaboration
4. Freedom
5. Innovation
6. Service
7. Diversity
8. Integrity

1.3 Quest for Distinction
Quest for Distinction is VCU’s strategic plan that embodies the university’s commitment to advancing knowledge and student success — a dual commitment that is distinctive among research universities. In June 2011 the VCU Board of Visitor approved Quest for Distinction. Quest was developed with the support and input of the entire university community. For more information, please visit the Quest for Distinction website.

1.4 Code of Conduct
VCU’s Code of Conduct reminds us all to operate, first and foremost, with integrity. Specific university policies supplement the code’s guidance and, when used together, provide direction in sound decision making. It is everyone’s responsibility to know and understand the Code of Conduct, the policies that apply to our work and the resources available for clarification, when needed. This framework can help us avert major problems that can derail progress. The objective is to foster a culture that prevents such problems from arising by identifying issues early and addressing them promptly and efficiently. The Code of Conduct reminds us that we each have a personal responsibility to incorporate, and to encourage others to incorporate, VCU’s values, ethical principles and commitments into our work and into our working environment. VCU’s Code of Conduct can be accessed in full here.
1.5 Ethical Standards
Virginia Commonwealth University is committed to an environment of uncompromising integrity and ethical conduct. Our ethical standards are the foundation for our decisions and actions. As members of the faculty, staff and administration of Virginia Commonwealth University, our actions will be guided by these principles and values:

1. Respect
2. Honesty
3. Excellence
4. Responsibility and Accountability
5. Stewardship
6. Compliance

We recognize that our decisions and actions reflect not only upon our individual reputations but also upon the reputation of the university. Our actions will be guided by these ethical principles even when confronted by personal, professional, social, or economic pressures.

1.6 VCU Creed
Academic institutions exist, among other reasons, to discover, advance and transmit knowledge and to develop in their students, faculty and staff the capacity for creative and critical thought. At Virginia Commonwealth University, members of the academic community should strive to exemplify the following specific ideals in addition to other worthy ideals:

1. To demonstrate academic and personal integrity.
2. To respect the rights and property of others.
3. To be open to others’ opinions.
4. To uphold academic freedom and freedom of intellectual inquiry.
5. To appreciate diversity, and to value and learn from the uniqueness of each person.
6. To uphold the right of all persons to be treated with dignity and respect and to refrain from all forms of intimidation, harassment, and illegal discrimination.
7. To demonstrate and respect intellectual courage in situations that demand it.

1.7 Organization
1.7.1 Board of Visitors
The University is governed by the Board of Visitors (“BOV” or “Board”) and is under the control of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Virginia. The BOV is the policy-making body of the University. Its 16 members are appointed by the governor for a four-year term with the possibility of a second consecutive term. One VCU faculty member, one VCU staff member, and one VCU student, recommended by the president and approved by the Board, are non-voting representatives to VCU’s Board of Visitors. Board meetings are held quarterly, generally in February, May, August, and November. At its meeting in May, the Board elects a rector to serve as its presiding officer and spokesperson. The rector takes office in July and appoints the Board’s standing committees. In August, the Board elects the vice rector, the secretary, and the members of the executive committee. Learn more about the Board of Visitors here.

The president establishes the internal administrative structure in a manner that will ensure proper University management, adequate planning, and evaluation and improvement of academic programs. The president delegates responsibilities and authority to other officers and committees of the University. The president recommends to the Board of Visitors the establishment of faculty positions and the appointment, compensation, promotion, leave of absence, and termination of faculty after consultation with appropriate vice presidents. 1.7.5 University Governance and Committees

Philosophy of Shared Governance
Virginia Commonwealth University values a model of shared governance that furthers the mission of the University within a culture of collaboration, transparency and trust among and within the major constituencies of the university. VCU is a more efficient and effective institution when the interactions of individuals and groups are based on trust and the realization of a shared commitment to work together toward the common good of the university.

VCU values collaboration that appreciates the distinct, but mutually-supportive, responsibilities distributed among the board, the administration, faculty, staff, and students of the university. This collaboration seeks and represents the voice of all constituencies in decisions and all matters that impact those constituencies, recognizing that shared governance is neither consensus nor democratic governance.

VCU values transparency such that constituent groups and individuals at VCU are aware of how university and unit decisions are made and the rationale for these decisions. Groups and individuals should have timely and easy access to information about the decisions for which they are responsible and about decisions that impact them. Such transparency also means that decision-making groups and individuals are accountable for the decisions they make and for involving the appropriate constituencies in those decisions.

The five concepts that make up iCubed’s cores are: oral health in childhood and adolescence; social justice; health and wellness in aging populations; racial equity, arts and culture; and culture, race, and health. The four themes that drive iCubed are: broadening access to education for students of diverse backgrounds; creating an inclusive environment for diverse faculty; being a catalyst for connections within the university community and with the community at large; and fostering innovative research and solutions to societal problems across boundaries.

3.2 Faculty Appointments

The information in section 3.2 can be found in full in VCU’s Faculty Promotion and Tenure Policies and Procedures (P&T policy) and Faculty Salary Administration Guidelines.

3.2.1 Appointments

All faculty appointments are either tenured, probationary (tenure-eligible), term (non-tenure), or adjunct (non-tenure), in accordance with VCU’s Faculty Promotion and Tenure Policies and Procedures (P&T policy). Teaching and Research (T&R) faculty appointments may be tenured, tenure-eligible, and term. VCU also offers Adjunct faculty appointments (temporary part-time) and other special faculty appointments outside of tenured, tenure-eligible, term, and adjunct faculty, such as Affiliate, Emeriti, Eminent Scholar, and Visiting. All faculty types mentioned are described below.

Teaching and Research (T&R) faculty

Positions in this category have specific assignments that customarily require instruction, research, and public service as their principal activity. These positions have academic ranks designated as Professor, Associate Professor, Assistant Professor, or Instructor. Additionally, faculty rank of Research Associate or Research Assistant may be used under appropriate circumstances. The University offers tenure to certain faculty based on an extensive peer review and administrative process.

Term Faculty

A term (non-tenure) appointment is a full-time appointment to the faculty for a specified mix of duties and does not lead to tenure. Term appointments shall always be at the rank of professor, associate professor, assistant professor, or instructor. Term (non-tenure) faculty members shall hold the same rights and responsibilities specified as tenured or tenure-eligible faculty except they shall not be afforded tenure or tenure eligibility. When appropriate to the duties assigned to the faculty member holding a term appointment, modifiers as defined by the unit (e.g., Clinical Professor, Visiting Professor, Research Professor, or Teaching Professor) should be used.

Track Transfers

The Faculty Track Transfer policy details how transfers from the term track to the probationary (tenure-eligible) track as well as transfers from probationary (tenure-eligible) track to term will be considered only in exceptional cases where there has been a clear change in the role and work of the faculty member within the degree-granting school or college.

Full policy: Faculty Track Transfer

Adjunct Faculty

Adjunct faculty (non-tenure) appointments are granted to faculty members who serve the university part-time and are employed for specific activities. The rights and privileges of adjunct faculty shall be specified in the guidelines of the unit making the appointment, but they shall not participate in the evaluation of full-time faculty members for promotion or tenure. Generally, adjunct faculty are evaluated by department chairs, although this Adjunct faculty are valued and integral members of the VCU community. The Office of Faculty Affairs is committed to providing resources to support their exceptional service and provides general employment resources, instructional support, mentoring and professional development information to further teaching and learning excellence.

Affiliate Faculty
Affiliate faculty appointments may be considered for individuals who, by virtue of their expertise, are deemed capable of making a significant contribution to a University program. The Affiliate Faculty Appointment policy covers types of faculty affiliate appointments, process of appointment, terms of appointment, faculty rank, basic criteria for affiliate appointments, promotion process, university privileges, and database of affiliate faculty appointments and maintenance of current affiliate information.

Full policies: Affiliate Faculty Appointments; Employee and Affiliate Identification

Commonwealth and University Professors
The President and/or Board of Visitors may designate the rank of commonwealth professor, University professor or emeritus professor as deemed appropriate. The appointment of a faculty member to one of these distinguished professorships at Virginia Commonwealth University constitutes one of the highest honors that can be granted to a university member. VCU’s Commonwealth and University Professorships policy sets forth procedures for nominations and approvals for this rank.

Full policy: VCU’s Commonwealth and University Professorships

Emeriti Faculty
The title Emeritus/Emerita is awarded for distinguished or exceptional service and outstanding dedication to the University. Normally, eligibility is limited to full-time faculty members who have retired at the rank of professor or associate professor and who have served the University for a period of not less than ten consecutive years prior to retirement. To be eligible for an Emeriti appointment, a faculty member shall be nominated by the department chair or applicable unit head. The nomination then requires approval by the respective dean, vice president, president, and/or Board of Visitors. Emeriti appointments carry the benefits of retired faculty, plus the following lifetime privileges: listing in University publications; participation in University processions; and ability to serve on dissertation committees.

Eminent Scholar
An Eminent Scholar shall be a person who has achieved national eminence in a discipline as judged by his or her peers on the evidence of effective teaching and productive scholarship, or on the basis of artistic achievement or distinguished accomplishments in areas that lie beyond academic endeavor. The appointee must hold the rank of associate professor or professor and must be full-time faculty. The Eminent Scholars Program provides matching funds to partially fund a compensation supplement for eminent scholar faculty positions over and above a base salary for the position.

Endowed Chairs and Professorships
The policy Private Support for Endowed Chairs and Professorships covers how the University seeks to attract, reward, and retain distinguished faculty, leaders, scholars, and artists of national and international reputation to occupy an Endowed Chair or Professorship as one of the highest forms of recognition. An Endowed Chair or a Professorship is intended to improve an existing program by providing support to attract new faculty members. The University Advancement Policies and Procedures Handbook codifies existing policies and procedures, including purpose and overview of advancement management, methods of giving, general policy on restricting use of gifts, endowment funds/ named endowment funds, campaigns, naming of physical facilities, annual funds, donor recognition societies, advancement series, donor relations and stewardships, advancement communications, corporate foundation relations, and university alumni relations.

Full policies: Private Support for Endowed Chairs and Professorships

Visiting Faculty
Under special conditions, the University may appoint eminent, nationally or internationally recognized scholars as visiting professors for a specific, limited period of time. The appointee shall hold the rank of associate or full professor, or its equivalent. The appointee shall be a person who has achieved national eminence in his discipline as judged by his peers. The eminence of the appointee shall be judged, generally, on evidence of effective teaching and productive research as attested by his peers.

3.2.2 Administrative Titles
Faculty members may be assigned administrative titles designating administrative responsibilities held in addition to any tenured/tenure-eligible or term (non-tenure) faculty rank concurrently held. Administrative titles and compensation for administrative responsibilities are held independent of any concurrently held faculty rank. Periodic reviews of a faculty member's performance as an administrator are separate and independent of academic reviews conducted for faculty promotion and/or tenure under this document. Administrative titles and responsibilities are held for specific terms or at the discretion of a superior administrative officer. Removal from an administrative position does not impair any rights the administrator held as a faculty member. It is not possible for an administrator to hold tenure in an administrative title, but administrators may earn and hold tenure under concurrently held faculty titles.

3.2.3 Faculty Recruitment
VCU has a prescribed faculty search process that is administered by the Office of Faculty Recruitment and Retention (OFRR) in the Office of the Provost. The intent of this process is to recruit the best faculty members and to enhance efforts to increase the diversity of the VCU workforce. VCU is committed to recruit and retain diverse faculty, staff, and senior leadership with the skills and talents to advance teaching and learning, high impact research, scholarship and creative expression.

OFRR delivers the Recruitment Inclusive Champion (RIC) program in collaboration with the Office of the Provost and the Office of the Vice President for Health Sciences. This program helps to strengthen VCU’s faculty recruitment efforts by building a cohort of knowledgeable champions from units across the university. Upon completion, Champions serve their respective schools/units by providing expertise and functioning as liaisons to the OFRR.

The Office of Faculty Recruitment and Retention webpage provides information about Faculty Search Process guidelines, search committees, video tutorials, and more.

3.3 Faculty Employment

3.3.1 Notice of Appointments (Employment Contract)
Every faculty appointment or change of status shall be specified in a written notice of appointment issued by or on behalf of the president and/or board of visitors to the faculty member. The notice shall include the following information: rank, academic unit(s) in which the appointment is made, type of appointment (tenured, tenure eligible, term (non-tenure), or adjunct), period of appointment, whether it is part or full time, and salary. If it is a tenure eligible position, the notice of appointment shall also include the length of the probationary period and the tenure review date.

3.3.2 Terms and Conditions
A terms and conditions of employment document is to accompany all faculty employment contracts. This document is part of the faculty contract and includes references to some of the key laws, policies, procedures that apply to faculty appointments. It also contains important conditions regarding the terms of appointment (e.g. background checks, criminal history records check, documentation of academic credentials, etc.)

For initial faculty appointments, transfers, and promotions
An offer of employment is conditional upon the following:
- Job-related background checks and consent to a criminal history records check. Criminal conviction investigations also will be conducted in connection with certain transfers and promotions.
  Full policy: Criminal Conviction Investigations
- U.S. citizens’ verifying that they have registered for the Selective Service or providing documentation from the Selective Service System that their requirement to register has been "terminated or become inapplicable."
- Each new faculty member answering whether he/she has an income withholding order for child support payments. An affirmative response will not adversely affect employment.
• Verification of eligibility for employment in the United States via the U.S. Department of Homeland Security Form I-9 and E-Verify system must be completed on or before the date employment begins. Verification of employment eligibility is required for current faculty working on federal contracts that include the E-Verify clause.
• Within thirty (30) days of hire, employees are required to submit documentation to the hiring authority that they have the academic qualifications for the faculty position in which they are hired. Failure to comply with this documentation requirement and/or misrepresentation of their professional credentials in any manner may result in revocation of their contract and/or termination of their faculty appointment with VCU. In most instances, this required documentation will be an original, official seal bearing transcript from the institution which awarded their highest degree.

Terms of appointment
A faculty appointment with the University is binding after approval of the President and/or Board of Visitors of the University. Renewal of tenure eligible and term (non-tenure) appointments shall be at the option of the University, subject to the non-renewal notice provisions noted below and/or any applicable policies of schools or units of the University. To be valid, an extension or renewal of an appointment must be in writing and signed by the President, Vice President, or appropriate designee of the University.

Non-renewal of tenure eligible and term faculty contracts
Should a decision be made not to continue a faculty appointment beyond a specified date, the faculty member will be provided with advance notice based on the length of continuous employment as faculty member at VCU in a tenure-eligible or term position, as follows: At least three (3) months’ notice before the contract end date during the first year of continuous employment in a faculty position (tenure-eligible or term) at VCU; or at least six (6) months’ notice before the contract end date during the second year of continuous employment in a faculty position at VCU (tenure-eligible or term); or at least 12 months’ notice, before the separation effective date after two years of continuous employment in a faculty position at VCU (tenure eligible or term). If the separation date is subsequent to the current contract end date, a new contract would be issued for the remainder of the notice period.

Academic year
For 12-month faculty, the academic year is July 1 through June 30. For 9 month faculty, the academic year is August 16 through May 15.

Payment of earnings
For 12-month faculty, dates of appointment are July 1 through June 30, the contract pay cycle is July 1 through June 30, and pay dates are July 16 through July 16. For 9-month faculty, dates of appointment are August 16 through May 15, the contract cycle is August 10 through May 9, and pay dates are September 1 through August 16. Family and medical leave under the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) entitles eligible employees to take unpaid, job-protected leave for specified family and medical reasons.

Workers' Compensation
Under the Virginia Workers' Compensation Act and the Virginia Personnel Act, VCU is required to provide benefits to its employees who incur an injury or illness arising out of and in the course of official work-related duties. Personal and family leave (only if they participate in the VSDP) on Jan. 10 of each year Teaching faculty on nine- or 10-month contract observe the same holidays as students; they also accrue sick leave at the beginning of each fall and spring semester but do not accrue annual leave. When faculty members have a status change (e.g., full-time to part-time, part-time to full-time, or 12-month to nine- or 10-month teaching), the conditions of annual leave and sick leave change, including accruals and payouts. Eligible faculty qualify for other leaves of absence. Faculty earn leave before using it and, when possible, request approval in advance to take it.

The Retired Faculty Council provides a means for retired faculty to participate in the life of the university and remain involved with university affairs. It also serves as a way of gathering and disseminating information of interest to retirees, and it brings together long-time colleagues for stimulating events occurring on campus. The group is open to all retired faculty members and meets several times a year.

Retirement Programs

Faculty Retirement and Transition Programs
The university may offer a Faculty Early Retirement Incentive Program (FERIP) and/or a Faculty Transition Incentive Program (FTIP) in an effort to provide a financial early retirement incentive for certain tenured faculty that will facilitate the release of tenured faculty resources for budget reallocation or reduction in accordance with the university Strategic Plan goals, changes in enrollment, and other university needs. ### 3.5 Faculty Performance

3.5.1 Faculty Promotion and Tenure Policies and Procedures
The Faculty Promotion and Tenure Policies and Procedures institutes a unified promotion and tenure system throughout the University, while allowing variations in the academic units to accommodate their specific needs. In regards to promotion and tenure, this policy covers goals, objectives, and authority; faculty ranks; appointments; university promotion and tenure policy review committee; school promotion and tenure committee; university appeal committee; academic review procedures for promotion and tenure for tenured, tenure-eligible, and term (non-tenure) faculty; administrative review procedures for academic personnel actions; the appeal process; the president and Board of Visitors; and procedure for termination of employment for tenured faculty members.

Full policy: Faculty Promotion and Tenure Policies and Procedures

3.5.2 Faculty Roles and Rewards
The purpose of the Faculty Roles and Rewards policy is to create a balanced roles and rewards system based on the premise that flexibility and accountability for faculty and their work units are all integrally related. This policy covers the governing criteria and guidelines for implementation around the following premises: a system of work unit accountability must become the focus of planning and evaluation; faculty work roles must be flexible, keyed to the work unit’s mission, and consistent with promotion and tenure criteria; standards of excellence must be basis for evaluation of all faculty and work units; and how the institution must implement a fair and consistent system of merit-based reward.

Full policy: Annual Assessment of Faculty Performance

3.5.4 Faculty Salary Administration Guidelines
Detailed information in this section can be found in VCU’s Faculty Salary Administration Guidelines

VCU’s Compensation Plan
In 2015, a VCU Compensation Plan was developed and serves as the framework for the continued implementation and development of compensation practices that embrace and support the mission of the university. The basis of this plan ensures that salaries are in-line with competitive market data, and that they are internally equitable. VCU’s Compensation Philosophy states that VCU is committed to attracting, engaging and retaining diverse, high quality faculty and classified staff in support of the University’s Quest for Distinction Strategic Plan.

Pay Administration
Deans/Unit Heads have latitude to administer pay within the established compensation policy guidelines. The Central Human Resources Compensation Team will provide compensation advice and guidance to Deans/Unit Heads to assist them in making sound salary decisions. This includes providing information on market data, up-to-date salary structures, and analytical compensation reports. Market based salary structures have been developed for teaching and research faculty for each school based on rank, discipline, and specialty. The Deans/Unit Heads are provided with these salary structures and are required to manage effectively individual pay within the applicable salary structure.

Salaries and Salary Conversions
Salaries of VCU faculty are established upon review and recommendation by the appropriate chair, director, dean, vice provost or vice president, with final approval by the University president and/or the Board of Visitors, as applicable. Salaries for T&R and A&P faculty vary by school/college and discipline. Salaries for initial faculty appointments are set and approved through VCU’s Compensation Plan. Salary structures have been developed for each school, based on rank, discipline and/or specialty. In determining initial salary to be offered to a prospective faculty member, hiring managers should reference the appropriate salary structure and range. Salaries for adjunct faculty are set at the discretion of the dean/unit head (in compliance with applicable FLSA guidelines) and carry no fringe benefits.

Institutional Salary

In determining the dollar amounts for each faculty position, the "institutional salary" is used. Institutional salary is defined as the contract salary approved by executive level management following prescribed administrative procedures. This definition meets the Federal "institutional base salary" definition, which is the "annual compensation that the applicant organization pays for the individual's appointment, whether that individual's time is spent on research, teaching, patient care, or other activities." Institutional salary excludes any income that an individual may be permitted to earn outside of duties to the applicant organization. Faculty working on grants are not allowed to receive higher rates of pay than other faculty performing the same work.

Salary Supplements

In limited instances, supplementing an employee’s salary can be appropriate. The Salary Supplements policy discusses establishing rates of pay, payments excluded from salary supplements, and penalties.

Full policy: Salary Supplement

Administrative Supplements

Each of the University's colleges and schools (and other administrative units as appropriate) may maintain established administrative supplements for positions of associate and assistant deans, directors, department chairs, and others identified for assuming additional administrative responsibilities. Administrative supplement scales will be reviewed every five years and recommended by the appropriate vice president and approved by the president. These administrative supplements will be identified specifically in the respective administrator's initial and annual appointment contract. The identified supplements will end when the individual's corresponding additional duties and responsibilities end; for example, leaving a department chair or assistant dean position to assume normal faculty responsibilities.

Compensation for Faculty in Schools of Dentistry and Medicine

The Schools of Dentistry and Medicine have specific University-approved policies on clinical faculty compensation, which may include compensation from non-VCU funds. For School of Dentistry, T&R faculty salaries are guided by the School of Dentistry’s Teaching and Research Faculty Salary Plan. For School of Medicine, Compensation plans are governed by the Medical School Faculty Appointment and Compensation policy.
Procedures for Salary Conversions

The standard conversion rate for faculty who change from a 9-month appointment to a 12-month appointment is 122% of the 9-month salary. The standard conversion rate for faculty who change from a 12-month appointment to a 9-month appointment is 82% of the 12-month salary. If a 12-month faculty member has an administrative supplement, the supplement should first be removed before the salary is converted to a 9-month appointment. Any exceptions to these standard conversions must be approved by the respective vice president and the president through the “Off-Cycle” faculty salary increase process.

Merit Increases and Bonus Awards (“on-cycle”)

Merit increases

The University has a prescribed annual faculty salary administration and bonus award process. This merit process is the usual basis for any individual salary increase and is contingent upon funding as authorized by the General Assembly. The faculty member’s performance evaluation serves as the justification for each salary recommendation. Faculty, chairs, deans, and administrative faculty are evaluated annually in accordance with VCU’s Faculty Roles and Rewards policy and the Annual Assessment of Faculty Performance policy.

Bonus Awards

The Faculty Bonus Award policy provides recognition and a financial reward for VCU faculty members. Bonuses may be awarded to those faculty whose performance exceeds the normal expectations and requirements for their positions or for superior accomplishments or achievement. All full-time faculty are eligible for the bonus award. The Faculty Bonus Award policy covers eligibility requirements, parameters, and procedures of the faculty bonus process.

Full policy: Faculty Bonus Award

“Off-cycle” salary increases

Since the usual basis for any individual salary increase is through the prescribed annual faculty salary administration (merit) and bonus award process, any salary increase outside this process is considered an exception. Accordingly, these requests must be made in writing and require the approval of the Dean and respective vice president. In addition, all salary increases are contingent upon approval by the president and/or the Board of Visitors, as applicable. The amount of the salary increase is based on objective factors, such as comparable positions within VCU and peer institutions of VCU, along with competitive market data and will be in accordance with the standard review procedures for salary increases.

Competitive Salary Offers
The University does not support the solicitation of competitive offers as a means of obtaining salary adjustments but does acknowledge that competitive offers occur naturally and, in situations where legitimate competitive offers have originated from comparable institutions of higher education, these offers should be considered and responded to based on the value of the faculty member and the quality of performance, in accordance with VCU’s Compensation Plan. Internal salaries for like positions, along with competitive market data, will be used in the review of competitive offer recommendation.

Expanded/Additional Duties
Opportunities to receive additional compensation, such as a salary adjustment for an expansion of duties (permanent or temporary), will be made available to all teaching/research and administrative/professional faculty, which may/may not include a title change. Temporary changes in duties/job responsibilities are to be compensated on a temporary basis defined by the term of the additional responsibilities. If additional responsibilities become permanent, the base salary increase will also become permanent. Competitive market data, along with internal equity review, will be used to ensure equity in any recommendation for a salary supplement for temporary duties or if the duties become permanent.

Other Salary Increases

4. Academic Affairs

Detailed information on Academic Affairs can be found at the Office of the Provost’s Academic Affairs webpage.

4.1 Academic Program Review

Academic Affairs oversees academic program reviews. Every degree program and certificate is reviewed on a cyclical basis. Within the academic unit, the dean of a school/college is accountable for program review. The program review process involves an intensive review to:

- Describe and reevaluate a unit’s contribution to the university mission and strategic plan, the needs of the Commonwealth of Virginia, and where appropriate, the needs of the profession it serves.
- Measure and analyze the overall productivity and quality of performance (including teaching, research and scholarship, service, and/or patient care) of a defined unit.
- Identify existing and potential areas of excellence and distinctiveness.
- Guide decisions regarding funding, continuation, and continuous improvement.

4.2 Academic Programs

As an urban, public research university, Virginia Commonwealth University offers more than 225 certificate and degree programs. For the complete list of degree and certificate programs, along with academic requirements, course descriptions and more, visit the VCU Bulletin.

Program Development and Approval
The process for developing new degree proposals and certificate programs, modifying programs of study, and making organizational changes in academic units has been updated. These streamlined processes reinforce VCU’s commitment to academic integrity while maximizing efficiency for proposal development and approval.

The Office of Academic Affairs provides support and guidance for developing proposals and directing them through VCU’s review and approval processes. These processes include priority setting, formal vetting of the proposed change, full proposal development guidelines, and interfacing with other internal stakeholders and programs.

The Office of Academic Affairs interfaces with two key external stakeholders, the State Council of Higher Education for Virginia (SCHEV) and the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges on behalf of the academic units. Typically, the final phase of the approval process involves a submission to SCHEV and/or SACSCOC.

4.3 Accreditation
Virginia Commonwealth University is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC) to award certificate, baccalaureate, master, and doctorate degrees. SACSCOC accredits institutions, not individual programs. The SACSCOC conducts a full review every ten years and an interim review every five years. The reviews are institution-wide and cover all aspects of VCU’s operations: governance, academics, online education, faculty, student support services, library and information services, finances, physical facilities, and institutional effectiveness. Between scheduled reviews, VCU notifies and/or requests approval for specific actions.

Accreditation by SACSCOC signifies that VCU has (1) a mission appropriate to higher education, (2) resources, programs, and services sufficient to accomplish and sustain its mission, (3) clearly specified educational objectives that are consistent with its mission and appropriate to the degrees it offers, and that it is (4) successful in assessing its achievement of these objectives and demonstrating improvements. By VCU maintaining good standing, our students can access funds for financial aid, sit for licensure exams, and obtain other loans and grants that require admission in an accredited college or university.

4.4 Assessment

4.4.1 Assessing student learning outcomes: asking and answering questions about the efficacy of the curriculum
The primary purpose of assessing learning outcomes is the continuous improvement of student learning and degree program effectiveness. The assessment of expected student learning outcomes is, in simple terms, asking and answering questions about the efficacy of the curriculum. Assessment should answer the question, “To what degree are students achieving the learning that the curriculum has been designed to effect?”

4.4.2 Annual assessment reporting
All programs leading to a degree or certificate are mandated to maintain an assessment plan in VCU's online assessment management system, WEAVE. Access to the system is protected.

4.4.3 Assessment quality review (AQR)
The Assessment Quality Review (AQR) is a process that supports academic integrity at Virginia Commonwealth University. The AQR is an evidence-based review of 14 quality criteria of a degree or certificate program's assessment plan and practices, promotes keeping assessment practices timely and useful.

The office supports the educational mission of the University by educating students about appropriate behavior and fostering a community supporting academic success. VCU Honor System

In a community devoted to learning, a foundation of honor must exist if that community is to thrive with respect and harmony. Therefore, all members of the university community must conduct themselves in accordance with the highest standards of academic honesty, ethics, and integrity at all times. Additional standards of academic and professional integrity consistent with this Honor System may apply to students in professional programs.

Because academic dishonesty is a violation of the profound trust of the entire academic community, the Honor System intends to:

- Foster an environment at VCU where academic dishonesty is not tolerated;
- Prevent any student from gaining, or attempting to gain, an unfair advantage over other students through academic misconduct;
- Define what constitutes academic misconduct and what conduct is expected of all members of the university community;
- Cultivate a centralized system of education and awareness of the Honor System; and
- Instill in members of the university community their responsibility for upholding academic integrity by recognizing that:
  - There is NO neutral stance when dishonesty occurs;
o Apathy or acquiescence in the presence of academic dishonesty is not a neutral act;

o Failure to take action detracts from a community of trust; and o Knowingly allowing others to represent the work of others as their own is as serious an offense as submitting another’s work as your own.

It is important to report EVERY suspected incident of academic misconduct to ensure consistency across courses and departments, due process rights, appropriate response to repeated academic misconduct, and protection from unfounded allegations of misconduct. The Academic Integrity Reporting form can be found here.

Full policy: Honor System

5.3 Classroom and Laboratory Guidelines
Classes must meet regularly and on time and must be conducted in a professional manner for the full duration of the assigned class period. Absences for personal or for professional reasons, such as scholarly meetings, are to be approved in advance by the department chair. These absences, however, should be limited in number and should not hinder the progress of normal class work. If a faculty member experiences an extended illness or disability, arrangements must be made through the department chair to have classes taught by other faculty. Faculty must, by grades or comments and in timely fashion, periodically evaluate each student’s achievement.

5.4 Registration Policies
There are student registration policies on the following. More details can be found here.
Continuous Enrollment
Student load
Full-time and part-time students
Academic overload
Credits allowable during summer sessions
Prerequisite enforcement
Audit registration
Concurrent registration
Change in registration.
Cancellation of registration
During the add/drop period.
After the add/drop period

5.5 Examinations, Grading and Marking System
VCU course work is measured both in terms of quantity (semester hours of credit) and quality (grades). Grades are assigned according to a letter system. Each letter is assigned a grade-point value. These letter grades and their respective meaning and grade-point values are available for review in the VCU Bulletin. At the beginning of each course or program, students should be informed in writing as to how they will be examined and how their performance will be evaluated.

Final exam schedules and deadlines for submitting grades are available in advance of each semester via the VCU Academic Calendar, and faculty should not alter the schedule in any way. However, due to certain authorized circumstances, faculty may change the schedule, but only with the specific approval of the dean. Faculty must enter grades via eServices within 48 hours of the exam administration. Once a grade has been approved, it may be changed only under authorized circumstances and with the approval of the department chair and the dean on an office Change of Grade Form. If a student misses a test the instructor may use personal discretion in deciding whether or not to give a make-up test, unless departmental policy dictates another course of action.

5.5.1 Midterm Alert Grading
The Midterm Alert Program notifies first year students having academic difficulty in 100 and 200 level courses. While university policy requires that all faculty provide students with an evaluation of their academic performance prior to the semester withdrawal date, for those instructors teaching 100 and 200 level classes, actual midterm grades must be submitted through eServices for any student who is earning a grade of "D" or "F". The notification allows students to seek assistance in increasing their grades or to withdraw from a course in which they are not performing well.

5.5.2 Grade Review Procedure
Undergraduate and graduate students of VCU have a right to appeal course grades they consider to have been arbitrarily or capriciously assigned or assigned without regard for the criteria, requirements and procedures of the course stated in the syllabus or guidelines for assignments. The VCU Bulletin details information on the appeal process.

5.6 Graduation Application
VCU confers degrees in May, August and December. A commencement exercise is held in May for May graduates only. A commencement exercise is held in December for August graduates and December graduates. Each student who expects to complete the degree requirements by the end of a semester or summer session must apply to graduate in accordance with dates published on the university academic calendar. Candidates who do not graduate at the end of the semester for which they have applied must reapply.

Graduation Checklist
The total number of semester credits required for graduation depends upon the degree program. Specific information may be found under degree program descriptions.
5.7 Appeals to Waive an Academic Regulation, Academic Regulations
Appeals Committee
The Academic Regulations Appeals Committee considers appeals for exceptions to undergraduate program academic regulations listed in this bulletin. The committee — composed of faculty and administrators from each school and the college, and representatives from the Division of Strategic Enrollment Management and the Office of Disability Support Services — is a standing committee of the Office of Academic Affairs.
Undergraduate students who wish to petition the university for a waiver of the regulations in this bulletin may do so through the Academic Regulations Appeals Committee. Students who have been accepted to the graduate portion of a five-year bachelor’s/master’s program may also need to make an appeal through the Graduate School.

5.8 Students with Disabilities

5.8.1 Registration
Documentation provides the University with verification of a student's disability. It is the student's responsibility to provide documentation of a disability to the DSS Office.
Documentation requirements vary dependent upon the specific disability and may be found on the DSS Documentation Guidelines. In general, documentation should confirm a diagnosis or condition, provide information about functional impairments and specific symptoms, and in the case of more specific requests, offer recommendations. Documentation should be recent, relevant, comprehensive, and, where appropriate, contain test scores and interpretations (e.g. learning disability reports, audiograms, etc.). If the original documentation is incomplete or inadequate to determine the extent of the disability or reasonable accommodations, VCU may exercise its discretion regarding requiring additional documentation. Pending the receipt of appropriate documentation, VCU reserves the right to deny any accommodation requests.

5.8.2 Confidentiality
Disability documentation is considered confidential information and does not become part of a student's academic transcript. All disability related information is housed in the DSS Office only. Disability documentation shall be released only in accordance with the law and VCU policies and procedures. Please note that all student information is confidential. Specific inquiries regarding student information (including testing information, registration status, office appointments, etc.) will only be answered for each student via VCU email or in person; a valid picture ID will be required prior to receiving in-person information. If a student is 18 years of age or older, student information (other than exams/tests/quizzes) will only be released to the student and any party indicated on a release form. Minimal basic student information may be released to departments on campus on a strict, educational, need-to-know basis. DSS takes student confidentiality very seriously, and cannot make exceptions to these conditions, including for parents, in order to protect highly sensitive student information.

5.8.3 Disclosing a Disability
Students are under no obligation to disclose their disability unless an accommodation is being requested; likewise, faculty and staff have no authority to see disability documentation or have any information concerning a student's disability without a legitimate educational need to know or written permission from the student.

5.9 Faculty Guide to Student Conduct in Instructional Settings
The University is a community of learners. Students, as well as faculty, have a responsibility for creating and maintaining an environment that supports effective instruction. The Faculty Guide to Student Conduct in Instructional Settings policy covers procedures around instructional setting management strategies and options for responding to disruptive students.

Full policy: Faculty Guide to Student Conduct in Instructional Settings

5.10 Assisting Distressed Students
The Faculty and Staff Guide to Assisting Students in Distress is a website designed to help faculty recognize the signs of distress in a student, to express concerns and to reach out for support. Faculty members interacting with students are in unique position to identify students who are in distress. They may be the first person a student reaches out to for help.

Common indicators of concern:
Academic Indicators:
- Persistent unexplained absences
- Decline in quality/quantity of work
- Extreme disorganization or erratic performance
- Persistent and inappropriate demands for special permission (extensions, make-up work)
- Disproportionate response to grades or other evaluations

Emotional Indicators
- Significant change in mood
- Inappropriate emotional outbursts, yelling or aggressive comments
- Withdrawal or isolation from others
- Expression of hopelessness or suicidal thoughts
- Disturbing or disruptive social media comments

Physical Indicators
- Deterioration in physical appearance or personal hygiene
- Excessive fatigue, exhaustion
- Noticeable cuts, bruises, burns
- Disorganized speech, rapid or slurred speech; confusion
- Substance abuse

All members of the VCU community are strongly encouraged to report behaviors or incidents of concern. Please visit the Dean of Students Report It page for information on how and where to report various types of concerns. Under certain circumstances, faculty and staff are obligated to report acts of violence, threatening behavior or misconduct. See VCU’s Duty to Report policy for specific information. Faculty and staff have a responsibility to immediately report incidents of prohibited conduct involving sexual assault, sexual exploitation and partner or relationship violence to the Title IX coordinator.

If you are concerned about a student:
1. Discuss the concern directly with the student.
2. Refer the student to appropriate resources.
3. Submit the concern online.

If a student appears to be in crisis, offer to walk them to University Counseling Services. Even if the student has been connected or referred to counseling, also submit the concern online so it can be routed to the appropriate behavioral intervention team. These teams receive reports from across the university and have the ability to centralize information, ensuring that concerns are assessed contextually and situationally.

5.11 Release of Student Information
For detailed information on the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), please visit the Division of Strategic and Enrollment Management's FERPA website.

FERPA affords students certain rights with respect to their educational records:
- The right to inspect and review the student’s educational records within 45 days of the day the University receives a request for access.
- The right to request the amendment of the student’s education records that the student believes are inaccurate or misleading.
- The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student’s education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent. One exception that permits disclosure without consent is disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is a person employed by the university in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position (including law enforcement unit personnel and health staff); a person or company with whom the university has contracted (e.g., an attorney, auditor or collection agent); a person serving on the board of visitors; or a student serving on an official committee (e.g., a disciplinary or grievance committee), or assisting another school official in performing their tasks. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill their professional responsibility. Upon request, the university discloses education records without consent to officials of another school in which a student seeks or intends to enroll; to specified officials for audit or evaluation purposes; to appropriate parties in connection with financial aid to a student; to accrediting organizations; to comply with a judicial order or lawfully issued
